As Fitzroy Island is part of the Marine Park, you must NOT stand on, damage or take coral including dead coral found on the beach.

Stinger Season from November to May is jellyfish "stinger" season in Tropical North Queensland. While it is rare for highly dangerous species to be at Fitzroy Island, it is best to wear full body stinger suits available from the Dive Centre as a precaution when participating in water activities. If you or someone you know may be having a strong reaction to a jellyfish sting, you must seek first aid immediately.
